

Melodie Robinson headlines Annual Awards Dinner

160 people attended the Canterbury Golf Awards Dinner held at Russley Golf Club and enjoyed an evening of awards, fun, and a thought provoking presentation from guest speaker Melodie Robinson.

Robinson spoke of her upbringing through a diverse group of parentage, and her struggle to progress through a male dominated media and sports broadcasting industry. Her initiative to promote women in media was inspiring.

As well as the awards, the evening proceeded in slick fashion spiced up with humour from the consummate professional Phil McGoldrick as MC. There were giveaways and spot prizes, and plenty of time to catch up with old friends and acquaintances.

It was great to have Sir Bob Charles, NZ Golf CEO Dean Murphy, Sport Canterbury CEO Julyan Falloon, and several Canterbury sponsors along to enjoy the celebration with club members.

The Canterbury Tasman Turf Managers Association attended and presented two awards for Best Presented Golf Course (Waimairi Beach), and Contribution to the Turf Industry (Colin Posa, Harewood).

Top Scoring at Canterbury 4BBB Championship

On a superb winter's day on an equally good Bottle Lake golf course the Riccarton Park Golf Complex 4BBB Championship was held. Many found the damp and sometimes blustery norwest conditions difficult, but those that combined well in the 4BBB format did score well.

The men's championship was won by the Waitikiri pairing of Brett Turner and Steve Bell with a gross 63. They pipped Hiroki Miya and Josh Roche by a shot (64), with a further shot back to Tom Wilson and Dominic Brett Kelly. Dominic had the best individual round of the day with a three under 67, followed by Brett Turner's 68.

The women's championship was won by the favoured pairing of Juliana Hung and Amy Weng who had 72, from Kim Moggach & Naomi Wallace (74) on a countback from Maddie May & Hillary O'Connor.

The women's net was won by the young pairing of Yoyo Fu and Deanna Matthews with 66.

Men's Div 1 Net was won by Daniel Hobbs & Anton Fouchee with 62, and the Div 2 Net by Blair Franklin and Craig McMillan with 63.

Thanks must go to the Bottle Lake Golf Club and its staff and members, and our sponsor John Pitman and his team at Riccarton Park Golf Complex.

Everglades Celebrate 50 Years

Everglades Country Golf Club has just celebrated 50 years of golfing. In May 1968 the club received a telegram from New Zealand Golf stating it had become an affiliated club.

The members celebrated this milestone by attending a weekend of golfing and social events. A 100 members and ex members attended including ex green keepers and golfers from the 80s.

As part of the celebrations a book was produced outlining the development and history of the course since its inception in 1968 by Tom O'Brien who turned his farm into the golf course. An acknowledgement was also made to the two junior members who have achieved considerable golfing success this year both in New Zealand and overseas.

It is a remarkable achievement for a small golf club such as Everglades, a club which welcomes new members and green fee players.
