

Team of the Year Nomination | 2025 Russley Golf Club Pollock Cup Team

I am proud to nominate the 2025 Russley Golf Club Pollock Cup Team for Team of the Year.

With an average age of just 13 years, this remarkable group demonstrated that success comes from commitment, teamwork, and a genuine love of the game. Through regular after-school training sessions, team meetings before every match, and social rounds of golf together outside of Pollock Cup, they developed not only as golfers but as a close-knit team. Their friendships, trust, and encouragement of one another became the foundation of their success.

Finals day reflected everything this team had worked towards. In extremely hot and challenging windy conditions, they remained calm, resilient, and united, always supporting one another and never losing belief. Just as inspiring as their performance was the support they attracted. Parents, club members, and even experienced caddies and players from other Russley interclub teams volunteered their time to walk alongside the girls and cheer them on. It was a wonderful example of the entire club coming together behind its youngest representatives.

As a former Pollock Cup player myself, this was one of the highlights of the season. Watching these young golfers embrace everything that interclub golf is about such as teamwork, sportsmanship, respect, and community was incredibly special. Their success wasn't just about winning the Pollock Cup, it was about the way they brought people together, inspired golfers, and represented Russley Golf Club with pride.

I would also like to acknowledge the dedication of managers Kara Campbell, Bridget Hoffman, and Mark Guy, whose guidance and belief in these young players helped them flourish both on and off the course.
